

NEWS ON THE FARM

12th March, 2021

This week all children have been thinking about their mummies and carefully making gifts for them. Older children have been thinking about what makes their Mummy so special.

U2s Room - "Come on Daisy".

In the Under 2's this week the book of the week has been "Come on Daisy" a simple story about a duckling, Daisy and her Mummy.

Children have joined in with many craft activities as they have painted, mixed and handled a variety of resources.

I have joined in with dancing this week, which is always a popular activity.

O2s Room - Gardening / Playing Outside!

Our older children have also handled many resources whilst creating their gifts for you. This week, dressing up items have been out for children to use - many of the accessories have been very popular. Turn-taking has been encouraged, and they have also been learning the words to use to explain what they would like.

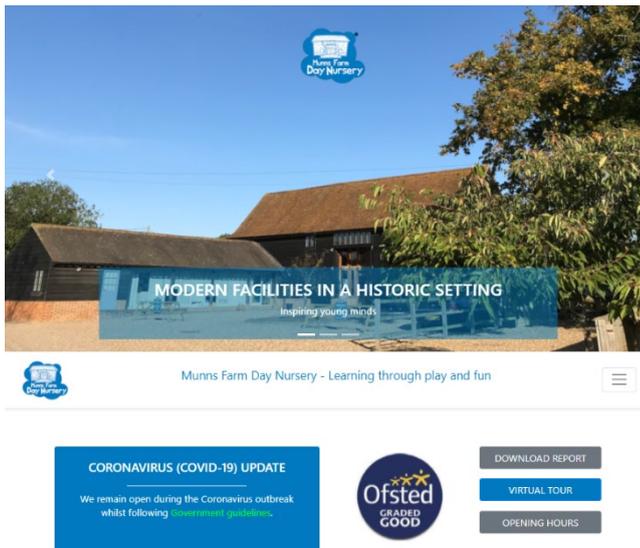

We have taken advantage of the dry windy weather to go onto the field. We all held strips of material, noticed how they moved and chased after them when we let them go! We all did a lot of running.

A member of our team, Liz, has started a project with children about growing plants and especially growing food to eat. You may notice plastic bags with seeds inside them hanging on some windows. Liz is also promoting healthy eating.

New Website

We have recently re-launched our website. The newsletters are all on there.

It contains a 'For Parents' section with latest news and some useful links to local resources as well as government advice on childcare issues.

Have a browse of the gallery page to see a full range of pictures throughout the nursery.

Please let us know what you think, or if there are any features you would like us to add.

Comic Relief

Finally, we would like to let you know that we are planning on joining in with the fundraising efforts of Comic Relief next Thursday and Friday 18th and 19th. Children are invited to wear red clothing and we plan on having "red nose and spoon races" each day. We will not be wearing red noses. We will have a collection box if you would like to contribute.

Have a good weekend.

From us all at Munns.
